

EBERHART HAS
SAFE PLURALITYAdditional Returns Show Minnesota Governor Wins.

NELSON LEADS FOR SENATOR

James Manahan Seems to Be Republican Choice for Congressman at Large, Although Returns Are Far
From Complete—Ringdal Is Ahead of Andrist for Democratic Nomination for Governor.

St. Paul, Sept. 19.—Returns from 130 precincts outside of the Twin Cities, with Ramsey complete and about two-thirds of Hennepin counted, give Governor Eberhart a plurality which it will be impossible to overcome by the process of elimination and counting second choice votes, although he does not have a majority. Returns from approximately the same number of precincts establish Knute Nelson's victory over J. A. Peterson of Minneapolis for the nomination of United States senator and Manahan for congressman at large is a trifle behind Frank Eddy in the country precincts so far reported, but Manahan is so far ahead of Eddy in Minneapolis that his nomination practically is certain.

In 819 precincts outside of Hennepin and Ramsey counties Senator Nelson had 24,698 votes and Peterson 7,250. Including Ramsey county and 16 precincts out of 152 in Hennepin, making a total of 1,068, or about two-fifths of the state, Nelson has approximately 36,700 votes to 28,900 for Peterson. As the same ratio has been maintained in most of the counties it is figured that their total vote will run about 90,000 to 70,000.

Governor Eberhart in 930 precincts outside Ramsey and Hennepin, but including 99 precincts in St. Louis county, had 20,344, Lee 12,949, Young 10,402. Adding the Ramsey vote and the 12 precincts of Hennepin, Eberhart has approximately 32,000 votes to 18,000 for Lee and 15,800 for Young, with the other candidate trailing.

Eberhart May Have 70,000. Should the same ratio be maintained in the rest of the state Eberhart would have about 70,000, Lee about 42,000 and Young about 36,000. It is probable, therefore, that it will be necessary to use the second choice method and eliminate all the candidates except Lee before Eberhart has a majority.

Returns from 930 of the 2,700 precincts of the state indicate that about 2 per cent of the voters who cast ballots in the Republican gubernatorial fight expressed a second choice vote. Their total vote on governor from the 30 precincts is 41,418. There were 9,327 second choice votes cast in the 30 precincts.

On congressman at large, Frank Eddy had 11,766 votes to 11,215 for Manahan in 530 precincts from outside the two big counties. At this ratio Eddy would have approximately 2,000 more first choice votes than Manahan outside the two cities. But Manahan had a plurality of 5,000 in 112 of the 52 precincts in Hennepin county and over 2,000 in Ramsey county, so that is plurality will probably be from 6,000 to 8,000 over Eddy in the total first choice vote. Thorpe is running third outside the cities, but Eustis' vote in Minneapolis will probably make him third in the totals.

Eddy's total vote in 530 precincts outside the cities with Ramsey complete and about two-thirds of Hennepin is 14,500 to 13,000 for Eustis and 1,200 for Manahan. Here, as on governor, it is not believed that the counting of the second choice will change the result.

Contest for Chief Justice.

A tabulation from returns from 263 precincts outside the Twin Cities gave W. Stanton of Benidji for chief justice 5,080, C. M. Start 3,332 and Stewart of Minneapolis 3,228. An examination of the tabulation, however, showed that the returns were largely from the northern part of the state. Where Stanton has his home and gets his largest vote. Under the new non-artisan law, however, the two highest will go on the ballot and it is almost certain that Stanton and Start will be the two candidates.

Neill of Red Wing is making a better run for lieutenant governor than the first returns indicated. 523 precincts outside St. Paul and Minneapolis giving him 12,004 to 14,092 for J. A. Burnquist of St. Paul. Burnquist, however, started with a good sized lead in the Twin Cities and seems certain to have the nomination. For secretary of state 397 precincts outside Ramsey and Hennepin give Schmahl 10,619, Mattson 7,569 and Ege 2,374.

Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith apparently has a safe lead over Thomas Fraser of Rochester, having 12,074 to 7,709 in 400 precincts outside the big cities and a plurality in both of the cities also.

The race for railroad commissioner and the greatest surprise. In 397 precincts outside the Twin Cities Frank B. Mills had 9,344, against 9,366 or E. H. Canfield of Luverne for the four-year term. Mills also has a small lead in the two big cities. For the six-year term C. E. Elmquist in the same precincts has 9,888 to 9,339 for Rosenwald of Madison, his opponent. Only scattering returns have been received on the Democratic nomination. P. M. Ringdal is leading over C. M. Andrist in practically every precinct reported and Harvey Grimmer had a big lead over Emil Olund for secretary of state. On the other places on the Democratic ticket returns are too meager to furnish any basis for predictions.

The only change in the probable congressional ticket is the nomination of Thomas P. Dwyer, the boilermaker candidate in Hennepin county, over Elmer Hoidale on the Democratic ticket.

HAS BUSY TIME
IN TWIN CITIESGovernor Wilson Visits St. Paul and Minneapolis.

BIG CROWDS GREET NOMINEE

Democratic Candidate for President
Takes Pains to Refrain From Personalities and Directs Most of His Broadside at Some of the Planks in the Progressive Party Platform.

St. Paul, Sept. 19.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, Democratic presidential nominee, whirled through a program of speeches and receptions almost Rooseveltian in its variety in the Twin Cities, heard his name cheered by thousands and left for Detroit, Mich., greatly pleased with the cordiality of his greeting in Minnesota.

In Minneapolis, where he spoke at the Commercial club breakfast shortly after his arrival in the morning; at the state university, where he talked on citizenship, and at the parade grounds in Minneapolis, where he spoke at noon, the Democratic nominee found big crowds waiting to greet him.

St. Paul gave him a cordial welcome when he motored into the city from Minneapolis and turned out at the evening meeting to give him the biggest demonstration of his day in Minnesota.

A crowd estimated at 10,000 packed the Auditorium to hear Governor Wilson declare himself on "the tariff and the trusts." It was an attentive crowd that heard the governor launch his explanation of the Democratic program for dealing with the tariff and monopolies and at intervals it applauded in spontaneous manner. Hundreds of cheering admirers crowded about his automobile when he left the Auditorium to board his train for Detroit.

Throughout his program of speech-making during the day Governor Wilson emphasized the fact that the national campaign was not one of personalities, but of issues. He paid warm tribute to the character of President Taft and upon one occasion at the parade grounds in Minneapolis, when the crowd construed his remarks to be an attack upon Colonel Roosevelt, he hastened to correct the impression.

Praises Progressive Platform.

"I want to say that there is a great deal in the program of the Progressive party," the governor was saying, "which attracts all public spirited and hopeful men; that there is a great program of human uplift included in the platform of the new party. A man would be niggardly and untrue to himself who would not say that, but when I ask you who is going to carry out this program then the thing wears another aspect."

"Shoot it at him," yelled a voice in the crowd. "You think that I am referring to an individual," answered the governor. "I am not. I am referring to the method by which that individual and the others associated with him propose to deal with the central economic difficulty."

The Democratic nominee took cognizance of the reports brought to him that Colonel Roosevelt and not President Taft was his rival in Minnesota. His address on the trust problem at the Auditorium and his address at the Minneapolis parade grounds in the open air took issue with planks in the Progressive platform, but made no reference to the Republican party program. In the course of his Auditorium address he asserted that no matter what the outcome of the November election there would be a change within the next four years that would restore the government to the people.

His specific attack upon the Progressive party was on its plank for the regulation of trusts by an industrial commission. He offered as a substitute the Democratic plank calling for restoration of competition under governmental restriction.

Gunmen Plead Not Guilty.

New York, Sept. 19.—Harry Horowitz, alias Gyp the Blood, and Louis Rosenzweig, alias Lefty Louis, charged with being two of the four men who fired the shots that ended the life of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, entered pleas of not guilty to indictments of murder in the first degree when arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Coff.

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH.

Son-in-Law of Roosevelt Says
He Is for Republican Ticket.

By Brown Bros.

WHERE LONGWORTH STANDS

Roosevelt's Son-in-Law Will Support
President Taft.

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—In a statement before the Republican county central committee here Nicholas Longworth, congressman from the First Ohio district and son-in-law of former President Theodore Roosevelt, made the following expression regarding his attitude in the coming election.

"If the question be asked as to my present position I reply that I am as I have always been a Republican and I shall support, as I have always supported, the Republican ticket."

"At the same time I want it understood that as a Republican I am a progressive."

"I believe that modern conditions demand progressive legislation and that the policies inaugurated during the administration of President Roosevelt must be carried out."

"I am for primaries and for extension of the primary laws to cover all offices, even up to the presidency."

AVIATION MAY ALTER
SCIENCE IN WARFAREEffective Air Scouting Makes British Tactics Useless

Cambridge, Eng., Sept. 19.—The science of aviation apparently is to revolutionize warfare. An official announcement was issued that the army maneuvers had been abandoned and that a military conference would be held here to adjudge the results and explain the cessation of operations.

This situation arose from the fact that the rival armies had reached a sort of stalemate, owing to effective air scouting which entailed a constant change of tactics and made impossible any broad plan of action. A series of minor engagements were fought at various points and when night fell the exhausted armies still were in such positions that neither was able to assert that it had secured an advantage of situation. They were so close together that the only possible issue was a pitched battle at the bayonet point.

The British army maneuvers began Monday and were scheduled to continue until Sept. 20. On the opening day the maneuvers were characterized by the brilliant work of the flying corps, one airship squadron and two aeroplane squadrons being attached to each army.

DOUBLE FUNERAL AT TOKIO

Impressive Ceremonies Over General and Countess Nogi.

Tokio, Sept. 19.—The double funeral of General Mutsuhito Nogi, supreme military councillor of Japan, and his wife, the Countess Nogi, who committed suicide on the night of Sept. 13, just as the body of the late Emperor Mutsuhito passed out of Tokio on its way to the imperial tomb at Monoyama, was held with impressive ceremony at the Aoyama cemetery in the presence of enormous crowds.

The funeral cortege left the Nogi residence in Akasaka, a Tokio suburb, and passed through the streets of the capital. The body of Japan's great warrior was borne on a gun carriage while the casket containing the body of the countess was carried in a hearse.

Two Painters Killed by Fall.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 19.—Two men were killed while engaged in painting the shift house of the Calumet and Hecla mine. The scaffolding broke, precipitating them 150 feet to the ground. The men are Ole Borchgrevink, aged thirty-two, and Allan Hiken, aged twenty-five. Both were married.

WILSON AND THE CIVIL SERVICEGovernment Clerks Interested
In His Attitude.

TENURE OF OFFICE ACT.

Extra Session of Congress Seems Certain in March Next—How Vacancies in Civil Service Can Be Created.
Washing of Money Means a Great Saving to the Government.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN

Washington, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Just how much of a civil service man Woodrow Wilson may be is a question which is agitating the government clerks in Washington. President Taft, with his veto, saved the clerks from expulsion from office at the end of seven years. Probably Theodore Roosevelt would have done the same, because he has always been an ardent civil service reformer. But what will Wilson do if he becomes president?

The Democrats of the house are committed to the legislation which Taft vetoed. The senate was compelled by the house to accept the house provision. If Wilson is elected the Democrats will be strengthened in the house and probably in the senate. They will again put through a tenure of office act. They may make it five instead of seven years. Will Wilson veto such a bill? The clerks are wondering.

Big Bills For Wilson.

It is almost certain that in case the Democrats carry the country this fall all the big appropriation bills will be held for Wilson to sign. Even if the Republicans win there is doubt whether the three months' session would furnish time to pass the appropriation bills, and certainly there will not be time enough with the Democrats coming into power. Therefore there is sure to be an extra session immediately after the 4th of March, not only to take up other business, but to pass the necessary supply bills.

Vacancies Can Be Created.

While the present civil service law is supposed to protect nearly everybody in the government service it is an easy matter for those in power to create vacancies and to have their party friends appointed in their places. By "executive order" the civil service law can be raised and persons appointed who have not taken the examination. Then there is a method of working the eligible register list by a clever appointment clerk in a department so that the "faithful" may not be overlooked.

May Raise a Question.

In selecting an advisory committee, consisting of prominent Democrats who received votes in the national convention and two members from each state, the Democratic national committee chose in nearly every case the senators. There were some omissions that may cause comment. Virginia, West Virginia, Arkansas, Alabama, Missouri, one in North Carolina and one in Texas were omitted. All other Democratic senators were selected.

Washing Money.

This talk of washing money seemed rather absurd when it was first started, but Assistant Secretary Bailey, who is putting it across, says that it will make a great saving. He said that it costs a cent to make every bill, no matter of what denomination, that is put in circulation. What a howl there would go up from national banks if they should be compelled to pay that cent.

But the great saving is in the one dollar bills, the issue of which is enormous and which are issued direct by the government.

Where Rucker Balked.

Congressman Kinkaid of New Jersey was making a speech in the house on the beef trust and inveighing against high prices. Rucker of Colorado was with him until he declared for the free admission of meats and cattle. "Hold on there!" cried Rucker. "You are going too far. We of the west can't follow you on that line."

A Mighty Good Farm.

Congressman Connell of New York tells a story of how a man in his state decided not to sell his farm. The farmer was determined to sell, but could not find a purchaser. A newspaper man told him to advertise it and said he would write the ad. He stated it this way: "Farm for sale in the beautiful valley of the Hudson. Beautiful streams flow through this farm. The house is beautiful, and the fences are complete. The land is drained beautifully, and the morning sun kisses it with a special beauty and love every morning."

If That's My Farm.

Senator Reed was talking on the postoffice bill, and Chairman Bourne asked him if he saw any evidence that the committee was trying to hamper anybody.

"I exculpate the senator from criticism," responded Reed. "I had no thought of criticizing him. His conduct in this matter is beyond criticism, and my regard for him is such that I would not criticize him even if I thought he deserved it."

The senators laughed, but that is about the way they feel toward Bourne. They all like him.

SURGEON GENERAL BLUE.

Orders Inquiry as to Health of Indians Living in Minnesota.

TO PROBE INDIANS' HEALTH

Inquiry Will Be Made on Minnesota
Reservations.

Washington, Sept. 19.—A thorough inquiry into health conditions among the Indians at White Earth and other reservations in Minnesota is about to be undertaken by the public health service. Orders to this effect were issued by Surgeon General Blue.

As a result of the disclosure by the Graham committee of the prevalence of tuberculosis and other diseases among the Indians at White Earth congress authorized an investigation of health conditions on the various reservations. On motion of Senator Clapp and Representative Miller of Minnesota a provision was inserted in the Indian bill appropriating $10,000 to defray the cost of the inquiry.

NO REFERENCE TO
TAFT OR ROOSEVELTWisconsin Republican Platform
Endorses La Follette.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—Republican nominees of Wisconsin in convention adopted a platform which is conspicuous for the reason that not a word of reference is made either to President Taft or Colonel Roosevelt. On the other hand considerable space is given to praising United States Senator Robert M. La Follette.

In addition to being an unqualified endorsement of Senator La Follette in his national political activities the platform presented to the convention many questions of public interest. Acts of the state administration are pointed out in detail, covering all legislative and administrative performances.

The income tax policies of the administrative are reaffirmed in no mistaken terms, but the party is pledged to protect private interests from exposure and a promise to simplify the law is made.

The platform fully attends to the humanitarian side of questions. Subjects of labor legislation, aid of mothers and dependent children, and improved prison administration find declaration. A far-reaching plank relating to "blue sky" stock promotion is incorporated.

kota Elects Gray Chairman.

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 19.—The Republican state central committee named W. M. Anderson of Devils Lake, O. J. Sells of Jamestown, A. P. Paulson of Valley City and George H. Stone of Mott to fill the vacancies as presidential electors made by the resignations of D. P. Barnes, Gilbert Johnson, Theodore Thompson and H. H. Aaker.

The four chosen above with F. W. Cathro, the primary nominee, will be the Republican electors. The selection of George M. Gray of Kenmare as state chairman was unanimous. He succeeds Frank Sprague, resigned.

He asserts they have tapped telephone wires and stole a satchel which apparently they believed contained compromising papers.

Senator Dixon gave the names of the men as Arndt and Beardsley. Government officials said the department of justice employed no such men.

Administer Severe Defeat to

HOTTEST FIGHT OF THE WAR

Commander of the Italian Forces Estimates the Losses of the Turks and Arabs at One Thousand Killed and Over That Number Wounded—Italian Casualties Less Than One Hundred.

Rome, Sept. 19.—The most sanguinary engagement of the war in Tripoli was fought near Derne, a town on the Mediterranean coast, 140 miles north-east of Benghazi. The Italians lost sixty-one killed and thirteen wounded. The Turks and Arabs lost more than 800 dead on the field. Forty-one, including an Arab chief, fell into the hands of the Italians. The battle opened at daybreak, when a force of Turks and Arabs surprised and attacked the Italian lines. The fight raged for four hours, but the superior Italian artillery, supplemented by brilliant bayonet charges, won the day and the Musselmans fled in disorder.

General Reissol, commander of the Italian army in Tripoli, in his report to the war office, estimates that the Turks and Arabs must have lost 1,000 men killed and that more than 1,000 others were wounded.

COLONEL STUDIES INDIANS

New Mexico Red Men Also Take Note of Roosevelt.

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 19.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt opened diplomatic relations with the Indians of New Mexico and before he started for Colorado had struck up a neighborhood acquaintance with them. Most of the day was spent in the run across the state and whenever the train stopped the Indians studied Roosevelt and Colonel Roosevelt studied the Indians. The colonel's arrival in Albuquerque toward the end of the day brought him back, he said, to the call of duty and he took up the campaign once more. Colonel Roosevelt spoke to a large crowd on the plaza here.

It was the Pueblo Indians whom Colonel Roosevelt met wherever he went in the course of the day.

TO CREATE FIVE CARDINALS

Rector of American College at Rome
May Be One.

Rome, Sept. 19.—The pope will shortly fix the date of the November consistory. It was announced. It is expected he will create five new cardinals, including an American and possibly a South American. Successors will also be named for the late Cardinals Fisher of Cologne, Couille of France and Samais of Austria, bringing the membership of the sacred college up to sixty-seven. Many churchmen think the American choice will be neither Archbishop Ireland nor Archbishop Quigley, but Rector Kennedy of the American college here.

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

The Millions of Cascarets Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach
It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.
Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.
Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.
No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

WARSHIP NO. 38 TO BE WORLD'S BIGGEST.
The New Battleship Will Be the Most Formidable Ever Undertaken.
Tentative plans for the construction of battleship No. 38, the Pennsylvania, authorized by congress recently, call for a vessel that is calculated to prove the world's sensation in the matter of a fighting machine. Naval authorities have determined that this shall be not only the biggest and most formidable war vessel so far ever undertaken, but the speediest of all battleships.
The fact that she is to carry twelve fourteen-inch guns and a water line armor protection of sixteen inches thickness has made it necessary to design a ship exceptionally long in order that her beam shall not be too wide for safe passage through the Panama canal.
Six years ago, when the Delaware, the first of the American improved Dreadnoughts, was laid down, it became necessary to widen the canal from 100 to 110 feet. In order to carry ten twelve-inch guns the Delaware and Utah were made 510 feet long, with an eighty-five foot beam and a displacement of 20,000 tons.
The Arkansas and Wyoming were increased to 554 feet in length, 93 feet beam and 28,000 tons; the New York and Texas were increased to 565 feet long, 95 feet beam and 27,000 tons; the Oklahoma and Nevada, authorized last year, were still further increased to 575 feet long and 27,500 tons displacement, but holding the beam at 95 feet.
Realizing the risk of taking a $15,000,000 ship of wider beam through the canal, Secretary Meyer has decided to gain space, buoyancy and speed in length rather than in width. Accordingly the Pennsylvania will have a ninety-five foot beam, but a length of 630 feet, 55 feet longer than the Oklahoma. The speed will be increased from the Oklahoma's 20.50 knots to 23 or 24 knots if possible. A displacement of 31,000 tons will be necessary.
This will make the Pennsylvania not only the biggest, with the heaviest armor and armament of any warship in the world, but the speediest of all battleships, in this respect rivaling the battle cruisers that are being built by Germany and England.
COPIES AMERICAN CAPITOL.
Australia Following in Footsteps of United States.
"Australia Invites Immigration from America" said David Jones, a merchant of Melbourne, to a Washington Post reporter on a recent visit to that city.
"The capital of the United States is one of the most beautiful cities I have ever visited," said Mr. Jones. "It is the cleanest city, I think, I have ever seen. Its broad avenues are a revelation. There are more beautiful cities in Europe, perhaps—Paris, Vienna and Berlin—but none of these latter will compare with Washington, I venture to say, fifty years from now."
"Australia is taking lessons from the United States. We are building a national capitol, and the plans are being drawn along the lines of the capitol in Washington. In many ways Australia is more like the United States than it is like the mother country, England. Our people are more like Americans, and I believe their sympathies run more along the lines of Americans than those of Englishmen."

THESE ARE NOMINATED

List of Candidates for County Offices Nominated on Tuesday

RACE FOR CORONER WAS CLOSE

On the Republican Ticket, B. C. McNamara Having a Slight Lead

All precincts in the county have brought or sent in the returns from Tuesday's primary election and the result as predicted in yesterday's issue is correct. The only possible change may be the nominee for coroner. With two precincts, Little Pine and Maple Grove missing, McNamara has a lead of only nine votes over Nelson.

In the county attorney contest additional returns give a plurality for G. S. Swanson of about a hundred. The second choice provision of two law might change this result, but it is not at all probable as Mr. Swanson and Mr. Alderman seem to have received about the same number of second choice votes.

In the contest for sheriff F. J. Reid has a lead of 500 or at least over Ole Erickson, and Auditor Smart leads Mr. Mahlum by about the same vote. The canvassing board is now in session canvassing the votes, but it will probably take until Saturday to declare the results officially. The nominees are:

REPUBLICAN
Auditor—J. F. Smart.
Treasurer—S. R. Adair.
Register of Deeds—A. G. Trombald.

Sheriff—F. J. Reid.

Surveyor—F. A. Glass.
Coroner—B. C. McNamara.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP
Auditor—H. L. Searle.
Treasurer—E. F. Evanson.
Register of Deeds—C. P. Eastman.
Sheriff—N. E. Bickford.
County Attorney—J. H. Long.
Coroner—Eugene LaRochelle.
Commissioner—1st Dist., Chas. Pentin. 5th Dist., Frank Engman.

Non-Partisan in County—Probate Judge, J. T. Sanborn. Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. Irma C. Hartley.

Lyon	667	462	1129

Only one small precinct in each county is lacking.

CROW WING ITEMS

F. J. Kapple arrived from Dakota on Sunday and on Tuesday Louis came home with the remains of Joe Kapple, who was killed last Friday at Cathay, N. D. The funeral was held on Wednesday and interment made in the Catholic cemetery where he was laid beside his brother, who was buried last May. Our sympathy is with the bereaved family, who so soon are called to lay another one away.

A. M. Johnston went to Little Falls on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. W. Guin went to Strawberry, Point, Iowa, on Wednesday where she will spend the winter with relatives.

Miss Beatrice Heath of Dist. 1, spent Sunday at her home in Little Falls.

Mrs. John Chisholm went to Superior on Saturday to visit her parents.

Mrs. Jesse Bailey and children of Randall, arrived on Saturday to visit relatives.

Cynthia Robbins arrived home from Fergus Falls on Monday, where she went to see her mother who is very ill.

PIANO CONCERT

Given by Miss Theodora Arlander, Assisted by Her Brother, Lawrence Arlander

On Monday evening, September 23, Miss Theodora Arlander and her brother, Lawrence Arlander, of Oakland, will give a concert at the Swedish Baptist church. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. Miss Arlander is a pianist and Mr. Arlander is a baritone and also plays the violin and cornet.

On Sunday afternoon they will play at the various meetings of the church. In speaking of Miss Arlander's playing, the Omaha Examiner said: "The musical department of the Woman's club met Thursday afternoon, when a program from the Italian composers was given. Miss Dora Arlander closed the program by playing the Rigoletto Paraphrase of Verdi-Liszt. Miss Arlander has a beautiful touch and splendid technique, and rendered the selection in beautiful style."

The Stromsburg Headlight says: "Mr. Arlander is a promising and gifted young musician and his vocal numbers and violin and cornet selections, which were accompanied by Miss Theodora, were well received."

IRON TON MAY BE ABANDONED

No More Lots to be Offered For Sale Until Townsite is Fully Explored for Iron

LENSES MAY BE UNDER TOWN

John H. Hill, One of the Townsite Proprietors, Gives Dispatch Interview on Subject

John H. Hill, one of the proprietors of Iron ton, a promising town on the Cuyuna range upon which thousands of dollars have been expended in grading streets and in making other improvements, in an interview with a Dispatch reporter stated that the townsite company was not offering any lots for sale and probably would not in the future, at least until the townsite was fully explored by drilling.

"We were fortunate or unfortunate enough," said Mr. Hill, "to own the mineral rights of the townsite and to now own an ore body of considerable proportions on a portion of the town, which experts assert with a considerable degree of confidence in all probability will extend under, or across the other portion of the townsite, while there is a possibility of other ore lenses swinging in from the side lines."

"Future explorations will enable us to determine within the next two or three years whether it will be more desirable to own a townsite we have but partially sold or own a couple of iron mines."

"Whether it is one or the other, the location of the town means good fortune for us; although I would much prefer for the sake of those who have invested in lots that no further ore be found, for if the ore is found our plans for a city of the future will have to be abandoned."

Mr. Hill was in Brainerd in connection with some other iron lands in which he is concerned.

TREASURY TAKES IN WASHING.

If You Have Any Dirty Money Uncle Sam Will Clean It.

Anybody having on hand any "filthy lucre" of the paper denominations may send it to the United States treasury and have it washed free.

Somebody some time ago carried a peculiar looking machine into the office of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and told him that the government could save money by washing soiled paper notes instead of having them destroyed and replaced by new ones. The secretary gave the machine a trial, and it worked so well that he called upon congress for an appropriation to install the apparatus. Recently an appropriation of $60,000 for ten machines was voted.

Four of the machines will be installed in New York and one each in Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, New Orleans and St. Louis.

FROM MONTREAL TO LIVERPOOL

Rev. G. Phil Sheridan, Pastor of Congregational Church, Describes Ocean Journey

FIELD OF ICE IS ENCOUNTERED

Sunsets Were Beyond Description, a Natural Picture Gallery Displayed Every Evening

Rev. G. Phil Sheridan, pastor of the First Congregational church, has given Dispatch readers the following eloquent word painting of the ocean trip from Montreal to Liverpool, on the occasion of his recent visit at his old home in Scotland:

Going home! going home! with such thoughts running through one's mind the resultant feelings are indescribable. Only those who have had the pleasure of crossing the ocean can in any way appreciate the electric waves of joy that penetrate the whole being. It was with such feelings we left Montreal July 17. Three days on the St. Lawrence and within sight of land this was indeed a great comfort. I presume that there is hardly a preparation for an ocean voyage so grand as this. The scenery is exquisite, and one has a fine opportunity to get their "sea legs." As to the scenery I shall never forget one morning when arriving on the promenade deck about seven o'clock, the grandest sight awaited me. Off in the distance one could see the bluish gray mountains and the heavy mists, as it were, tearing themselves from their companions of the night. The sun also played its part for as the mists rolled away from the mountains the great orb carried them beyond the vision of their admirers. One could fill volumes with things that impressed themselves on us, during those three days.

It was with a strange feeling that we bade good bye to Belle Isle, for that was the last piece of land until we sighted the Emerald Isle. People with buoyant spirits made up their minds that the demon, "sea sickness" would be their servant and not their master; however this fear was dissipated by another; we were about a day's journey out and in the forenoon we were signaled to stop by an approaching steamer, which happened to be a freighter from Glasgow. Her captain addressed ours through a megaphone to this effect:

"Two miles ahead there is eight miles of field ice." Then a dialogue began. "How did you pass it?" asked the captain of the S. S. Victorian.

"We came through it, sir. If you go two miles south you will miss it. Good bye, safe journey."

Our captain changed his course as advised, but to find himself in the eight miles of field ice. The decks were crowded with passengers all of whom were bundled up and yet shivering with the cold, but most of whom braved the cold rather than the thought of going to their state rooms. All kinds of things run through the brain at such a moment. The Titanic disaster was fresh in our minds and none of us were very hilarious in spirit. One officer would shake his head and say, "I don't like this."

Another, "I hope to God we will get out of this." Another who wanted to comfort said: "Well there's one thing about it, you can't call a taxicab or 'You need not fear. Capt. Outram is the sanest man of the fleet.'" And 'tis true he was for we crawled along, turning around three times to force a passage to clear water, after hours of splendid seamanship. We returned thanks to Heaven, that we were in clear water with a few ice bergs scattered about us.

These ice palaces are the most gorgeous sights that anyone could wish to behold, towering from 200 to 500 feet about the water. Played upon by the sun they present the grandest spectacle that ever could be imagined.

For the next three days we were contented to make friends with water, day and night, and during the days passed the time by reading, pleasant conversation, or playing deck billiards or ring quoits.

The sunsets were beyond description, no skyscrapers to spoil the view. We were granted a natural picture gallery every evening.

The next fear that went through the crowd was the report that one day's journey this side of Ireland we were to cross the "Devil's Hole" and if we saw the "White Horses" we could expect to be sick.

It is a hole and the sea is very choppy which gives a peculiar motion to the boat but with the exception of a few we were able to keep the sea sickness at bay. And in the morning our eyes were gladdened with one of the prettiest views on the entire journey, the coast of Ireland.

Here the sea gulls (King's birds) joined us and escorted us into Liverpool arriving there at 9:30 on the morning of July 26.

Hundreds of people greeted us, some from mere curiosity, others came to meet relatives. Thus ended one of the finest trips to Liverpool that one could ever wish to take.

I have been asked to say a word as to the menu on the liner. I must speak in glowing terms of the food, it was beyond our expectation and the service was excellent. The next article will deal with a short description of parts of the great metropolis, London.

REV. G. PHIL SHERIDAN.

CANVASSING BOARD

In Session at the Court House Today—Engaged in Canvassing the Votes

The canvassing board which is engaged in carefully going over the vote cast in the county at the primary election, commenced its labors at nine o'clock this morning. The first ward of the city was the first section to engage its attention.

On the board are Clerk of Court W. A. M. Johnston, D. C. Henderson of Nisswa, W. H. Onstine of Brainerd, Louis O. Berg, a justice of the peace of Crosby, and Alderman Olson of this city. It is believed it will take the board two or possibly three days to complete its work.

LOUIS REID IS SHOT IN ARM

13 Year Son of Dr. Wm. Deid Wounded by Playmate, Frank Grey, at Deerwood

TAX LEVY MADE BY COUNCIL

Second Choice Feature of the Primary Law Does Not Appeal to Deerwood Residents

Louis Reid, the 13 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Reid was shot in the fleshy part of the right arm Wednesday afternoon by a young playmate, Frank Grey, while both were squirrel hunting in the vicinity of the old school house. The gun used was a small 22 target rifle. So far the bullet has not been located and it is thought it may have shattered the bone.

Mrs. Julia Roberta Smith, who passed away at the Serpent lake summer residence of Mrs. R. B. Dear, of Washington, D. C., was an invalid sister, who had been at the lake during the summer trying to recuperate her health. The remains were sent to her former home at Alexandria, Virginia.

Mrs. William Reid was a Brainerd visitor Wednesday.

At an adjourned meeting of the village council the tax levy for 1913 was voted on and approved. It provides a levy of $2,400 for the general fund and $600 for the interest fund.

The council approved the cement sidewalks recently built by Contractor Peter Brand.

Steps are being taken to incorporate the volunteer fire department. Members are to be paid $1 each for attendance at a fire. The minimum compensation per year of each member shall not be less than $5, provided that at least 24 meetings are held each year and that a member attends at least 16 of these meetings.

A member of the department is to be fined 25 cents for absence from such meeting, unless he gives a valid excuse. The chief and the captains shall be vested with the power and authority of village marshals to preserve order and make arrests in the immediate vicinity of a fire.

Mrs. E. A. Lamb and her sister, Mrs. J. J. Edwards, of Ann Arbor, Mich., are visiting in Duluth.

William Seafeld has returned from a business trip to Duluth.

J. A. Stetson's family, who spent the summer at their cottage at Crosby Beach, have removed to their home in Duluth.

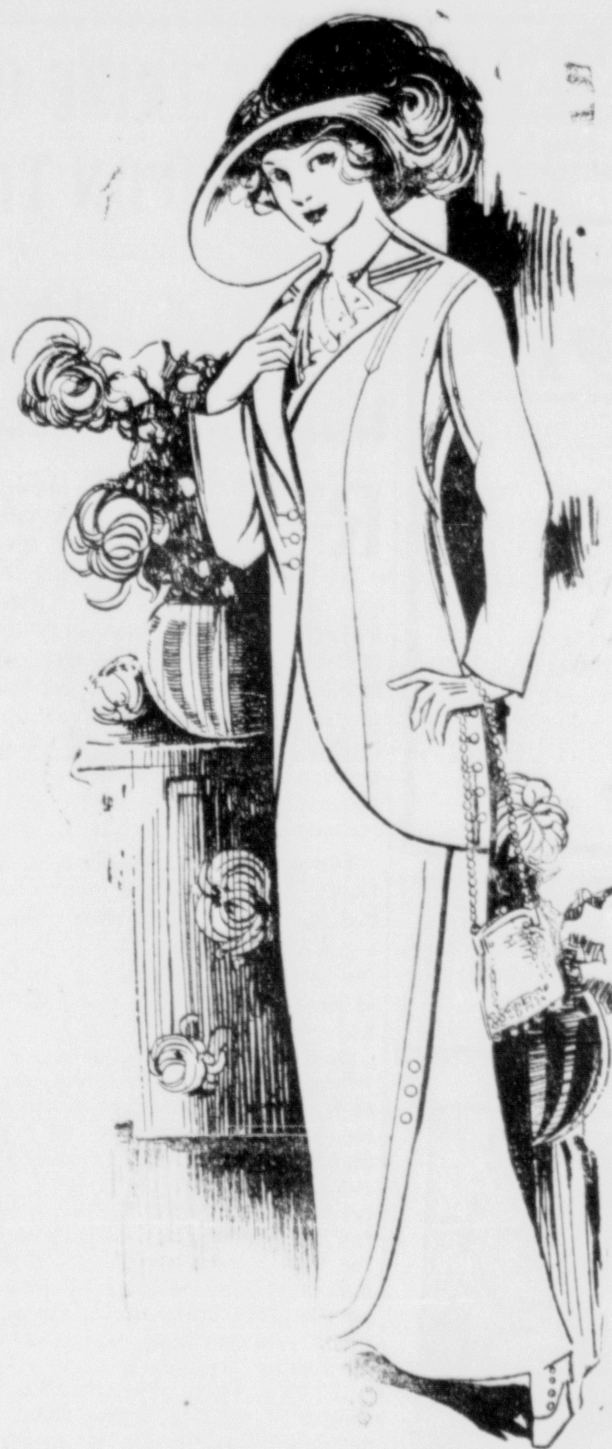

Swanson Brothers, of Crosby, are lathing the potato warehouse of the Bay Lake Fruit Growers association.

Signs are prominently displayed at the First National bank of Deerwood asking for contributions to the democratic, republican and the third party campaign funds. When Cashier H. J. Ernster was asked how the contributions were pouring in, he said: "Not a nickel has showed up yet."

The second choice feature of the new primary law does not appeal to the people of Deerwood and its vicinity. Very few voted second choice. The election board worked over a day counting ballots and recording the votes. Farmers out in the country, unused to continued clerical work, are reported to have fallen asleep over the 50 pounds of forms, books, laws, sealing wax, affidavits, returns, etc. From two to four o'clock Wednesday morning it was a positive torture to stay awake and keep on counting, counting and recording. "From any more second choice, O Lord deliver us," appears to be the refrain heard all over the country side. The extra items of cost in printing the ballots and compiling returns does not appeal to the rural districts either.

Colors of Amber.
Amber appears in various colors. It may be black, white, brown and green as well as yellow.

Many Driven From Home
Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. In our Fall Suits

"That suit is heavier than my winter coat" was the remark of one lady who selected a new fall suit and this is one of the features that is making suits popular. They are, for the most part, heavier than the broadcloth coats sold several years ago. When one gets a suit of the heavier materials and has it well tailored there is service.

Our patrons are heartily approving the styles we are showing this season. The simple well tailored styles always appeal to women who know. These are suit days and we await the pleasure of showing you the new styles.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by ear local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Brewster's Millions"

"Brewster's Millions," which comes to the opera house tonight, is the result of a unique and original idea. Most people find it a task to accumulate a million dollars in a year—strange as it may seem in these days of endless chain fortunes—but "Monty" Brewster has the rather hilarious occupation of spending that amount in twelve months. On this idea the play was founded.

It is carried through four acts with increasing action and amusing situations, the great climax coming in the third scene with the great yacht, and sea-storm effect, a piece of stage realism that has been as much discussed as the play itself.

The seat sale at H. P. Dunn's drug store is evidence that the play will be well attended this evening.

MINNEAPOLIS LADY BADLY SCALDED WHILE COOKING

While preparing dinner a young Minneapolis wife had the misfortune to scald her hand so badly that over half the skin came off. She was alone at the time and rushed over to her neighbor's for help. This neighbor promptly applied Allen's Ulcerine, Salve and in ten days the hand was completely healed without a scar.

This salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 it has been known as the only salve powerful enough to cure chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing. Because it is so powerful, it will heal burns and scalds without a scar in a remarkably short time.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve heals from the bottom up and rams out the poisons. If applied on new cuts and sores it heals in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take.

LOST TRIBE OF 2,000 WHITES FOUND ON THE ARCTIC COAST

Discovery of Great Importance Is That Made by Prof. Stefansson.

Descendants of "Lief the Lucky," Who Migrated From Iceland.

RANKING next in importance from an ethnologist standpoint to the discovery of the lost tribes of Israel is the discovery made by Professor Vilhjalm Stefansson of the American Museum of Natural History of a lost tribe of 2,000 white people who are believed to be direct descendants of the following of Lief Erickson (Lief the Lucky), who went to Greenland from Iceland about the year 1000 and later discovered the north coast of America.

The people living on Victoria island, thirty degrees east of the mouth of the Mackenzie river, more than 2,000 miles by the coast line, are still in the stone age. While the civilization of nearly 1,000 years has grown they have stood still.

One of the remarkable incidents of Professor Stefansson's five years of exploration is the fact that he left his winter headquarters near Banks land four years ago with only sufficient flour and other cereals to sustain himself and his Eskimo associates for two weeks and enough salt and tea to last for a month. On this scant supply of food he lived for four years on the bleak, inhospitable shore of the polar sea, caribou, seal and beaver furnishing his only meat and clothes.

In 1910 Stefansson returned to the mouth of the Mackenzie river, where he was joined by Dr. R. Anderson, a former classmate from the University of Iowa.

In his trips round the region at the top of the world Stefansson discovered thirteen new tribes. Ten of these tribes had never been heard of before. Two other tribes had seen the members of the Franklin exploring expedition.

The tribe of white people, whom Stefansson declares are purely of Norwegian origin, never had seen other people of their own color. Their number is about 2,000. More than half of them have red hair, blue eyes, fair skins and light eyebrows and beards. They live on both shores of Coronation gulf, on the mainland of North America and Victoria island, which formerly was known as Prince Edward island.

Different From the Eskimo.

It was for this people that Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole, searched while making his trip through the northwest passage. Amundsen, it will be remembered, said natives had told him of a race of white people living to the northward. He sent an expedition along the shore of the island, but saw nothing of the tribe, nor did they see anything of him.

Many other arctic explorers have brought down from the north stories of this tribe of lost white people, but the tale came to be regarded as an Indian legend.

Ethnologically, the newly discovered tribe is entirely different from the Eskimo, not only in the shape of the skull, but in general features, color of eyes and texture of hair. They have not a single trace of the Mongolian type.

While they retain some of the customs of the Norsemen who were lost from Iceland in the twelfth century, their method of living is entirely different. The conditions under which they live are of the most primitive sort. No vegetation, except moss and a few stunted willows, grows in their habitat.

They are meat and fish eaters. The island abounds with caribou and the sea with seal and other fauna. They use bows made of willow bound together with sinews and their arrows are tipped with flint and native copper, which is pried out of ledges or found in stream beds on the mainland. Their knives are made of copper, with horn handles, and made in much the same manner as implements were made by the early Norsemen who inhabited Greenland.

Legend of a Flood.

Like nearly every savage tribe they have a legend of a flood which a long time ago devastated the world. This legend, anthropologists say, is universal among savage tribes and therefore cannot be regarded as proof that this particular tribe is descended from Christian forefathers.

Professor Stefansson accounts for their existence by the fact that in the year 982 Greenland was discovered and settled by 3,000 Icelanders. One thousand of these people sailed from Norway and missed Greenland, but landed on the coast of Newfoundland, where they established a colony, built fourteen churches, two monasteries, a nunnery and other structures, the ruins of which are still standing.

These people crossed to the coast of America for timber. There were no Eskimos at this time, either on Greenland or Newfoundland. The Norsemen settled in two colonies, one on the north and one on the south side of Newfoundland.

In the fourteenth century Eskimo came from the north and exterminated the north settlement. Their record was complete till 1441, when the black plague scourged Europe and for two centuries communication between Newfoundland and the old country was cut off.

When communication was restored the people of the second settlement were missing. Their graveyards, buildings and other adjuncts of their civilization were found. The theory was formed that the people had drifted to a settlement further west across the narrow straits, where they intermingled with Eskimo, whom they took along with them to the island on which their descendants make their headquarters.

They still use the bone needles that were invented by their forefathers, and many of their methods of life are similar to those of their progenitors. Different environment, a more rigorous climate and a lack of vegetation, however, have changed many of their usages.

A Migratory People.

They are a migratory people, never remaining longer than a few weeks in the same place. When they moved Stefansson and his associates moved with them. They never live on the coast itself, and it was for this reason that Amundsen failed to discover them when he sailed past their island.

In the winter time they settle on the ice in the center of a bay and hunt seal.

In the summer they go to the center of the island, where they eat the caribou which there abound in thousands. Once in a great time they capture one of the rare specimens of barren land bear.

Their houses are made of snow, with a roof of driftwood which on rare occasions is found on the coast. The stray fragments of wood are highly prized. Furs furnish their clothing. Their shoes are cut to come well up to the thighs. Here it is met by a kind of undershirt which reaches to the waist. The coat is fashioned in almost precisely the same manner as the full dress coat worn at inaugural balls by their civilized brothers. It cuts off at a sharp angle just above the waist line and a long tail divided into two pieces hangs down behind. The whole outfit is strapped together by means of thongs and buttons made from rawhide and bone.

In one place on the island Professor Stefansson discovered a conical stone house which bears a striking resemblance to the houses built in Greenland and Newfoundland by the Norsemen who first inhabited those places.

None of the natives had ever seen a sulphur match or a rifle. One tribe expressed surprise when Stefansson killed a caribou with a rifle at a distance of more than 1,000 yards. They told him of a wonderful man who had once lived in that country who had a bow and arrow that would shoot over a mountain and kill a deer or a bear on the other side.

Traveled 10,000 Miles on Foot.

Stefansson traveled on foot more than 10,000 miles and sustained himself and Dr. Anderson with his rifle. He took neither shotgun nor fishing net, although once in awhile he obtained fish from natives.

There are but two specimens of the Barren Land bear in the United States. Stefansson got nineteen. Thirteen were killed with a rifle and six by natives. They will be brought down by Dr. Anderson, who left the shores of the arctic on a whaler. Dr. Anderson also is bringing many other biological geological and botanical specimens. The winter temperature in this latitude is about 55 degrees below zero on an average. Professor Stefansson and his associate wore woolen underwear in summer and winter, which is nearly all of the time; wore clothing they made from the pelts of animals they killed. Pants and coats were made with two thicknesses of fur, one being placed next to the skin and the other turned outward to meet the cold and frost.

In the five years he spent on the expedition Stefansson killed nearly sixty tons of meat. He traveled twenty miles for every one traveled by Amundsen, Peary or any other explorer and mapped a large part of the country.

The maps of the top of the world, he says, are grossly inaccurate. Rivers which are marked on the charts have no existence in fact, and mountain ranges appear where the country should be flat. He found Amundsen's maps, however, very useful and generally correct.

The Indians in the region in which he traveled provide for themselves with primitive weapons. The unskilled animals, he says, have no more chance against a rifle than a mosquito would have against a pile driver.

Scientifically, the work was divided between himself and Dr. Anderson. Stefansson did the mapping and the anthropological and ethnological tasks, while Dr. Anderson took care of the biological, botanical and geological tasks.
